MAYOR-ELECT POISONED.

Rushlight and His Son Victims of Poinsettias From Ice Cream, But Are Out of Danger.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES) PORTLAND (Or.) June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a result of poinsettias poisoning from ice cream, Mayor-elect A. G. Rushlight and his little son narrowly escaped death, and only last night were pronounced out of danger.

The Mayor-elect and the boy ate ice cream last Thursday evening at a downtown restaurant. They were eating it when some after reading home, and only heroic measures saved them.

Mr. Rushlight will probably be able to return to his office to receive his appointments to the executive, water, health and park boards. The executive board is composed of ten members of the water and park boards of four members each, and the board of three physicians. The Chief of Police is an ex-officio member of the Board of Health. All these places are to be filled simultaneously with the new Mayor taking office.

Dr. Walsh is prominent in politics and in fraternal circles.

In Jeopardy.

CALLS DOCTOR, ATTACKS HIM.

THREE POLICEMEN REQUIRED TO OVERPOWER WOMAN.

San Francisco Physician Has Close Call for His Life in Home of a Man Who Blames Him for Making Her the Subject of Former Lunacy Inquest.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT) SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Mrs. Wesley Steele, a well-to-do woman of this city, summoned Dr. T. E. Shumate to her home this afternoon and closed and locked the door behind him. Then she attacked him fiercely, and it was only by the greatest efforts that he saved himself from instant death. He was summoned by the woman's daughter. It required the combined efforts of the policemen to take the woman to the Detention Hospital.

Five years ago, Mrs. Steele was taken before a lunacy commission, but was declared sane. She charged Dr. Shumate with having brought about her examination by the committee.

Recently she was robbed of several valuable diamonds, and this loss is said, preyed upon her mind. She will be examined as to her mental condition.

WATER WATER COSTS.

Sacramento Board Doesn't Want to Pay Three Million Dollars for Sierra Nevada Supply.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES) SACRAMENTO (Cal.) June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After considering the proposition of the Sierra Nevada Development Company to supply water to the city from the streams of the Sierra Nevada Mountains, the water commission of the City Board of Trustees has reached the conclusion that it will not be to the city's advantage to undertake a new supply at this time for the reason that the cost will be almost prohibitive.

Manager J. M. Carter of the Sierra Nevada Company estimates that the cost of bringing water to this city would be $2,500,000.

The committee's estimate is $3,000,000. The city has recently twice refused to let its bonds for a plant to filter the river water.

HUMANITY TO BEASTS.

State and City Societies Ask Agricultural Board to Modify Sideshow Features of Fairs.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES) RACCORDAMENTO, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Officials of the Sacramento County Humane Society announce that wild animals, monkeys, horns are yanked from the heads of cattle, and other unique stunts at the expense of the dumb beasts are performed, will be prohibited at the State Fair this year.

In this connection, the State Humane Association has written to the secretary of the State Agriculture Society, protesting in advance of the State Fair its protest against any wild west performance where cattle or animals are baited for the delectation of audiences.

CANADA THE GOAL OF HILL RAILWAYS.

Great Bond Issue Associated With Reciprocity.

Buys Alberta Central to Feed Trunk Line.

Competition With the Northern Pacific is Coming.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ST. PAUL (Minn.) June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Railroad warfare between the Soo, Canadian Pacific and the Great Northern, with Canada as the goal, is a new explanation of the $500,000,000 bond authorization issued by the Great Northern.

Connected with this project is Canadian reciprocity and whatever the outcome of the struggle between the northwestern roads, St. Paul and Minnesota expect to benefit greatly by it.

Correlated with it is a view of the future which James J. Hill is said to entertain, starting in its confidence and audacity. This explanation is given on authority especially close to the man at the head of the Hill lines, although James J. Hill is giving out no further statement relative to his intentions than was given at the time of the filing of the big mortgage.

The plan does not in any way obviate the supposition that Mr. Hill intends to perfect the combination between the Great Northern and Burlington by taking up the Hill lines. Whether it is a confirmation of that project, but $400,000,000 is a large amount of money, even in the United States. It is well-known that Mr. Hill has been figuring on the matter for a long time and as he has thought out his plan, the bond issue has become larger and larger in the imagination of the empire builder.

Corroborating this view, a syndicate of Winnipeg and Calgary, Alberta business men have sold out to James J. Hill of St. Paul, for $250,000, the charter of the Alberta Central Railway, now under construction from Red Deer, Alberta, to the Brazeau coal mines, 115 miles distant. This will be one of the many feeders Mr. Hill will have for his transcontinental railway from Winnipeg to Vancouver.

WILL EXTEND ITS LINES.

Northern Electric Company Builds Bridge in Sacramento to Make Ready for More Traffic.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SACRAMENTO, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the completion of the Northern Electric Company's new bridge now being built across the Sacramento at the foot of M street, with the extension of the company's lines to the West connecting at Woodland.

The company has for a year been planning for the extension and another branch to run from Marysville to Colusa. Probably the Colusa branch will be started first, but it is assured, practically, that the Woodland extension will be completed during the present year, and probably be completed by the middle of next March. The company will not, for a year, build the line from Chico to Red Bluff.

FEDERAL JUDGE DEAD.

Jurist of the Federal Bench in Porto Rico Succumbs to Bright's Disease in Wiesbaden.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHIPPEWA FALLS (Wisc.) June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Judge John J. Jenkins, former Congressman, accompanied by his wife, left Porto Rico on April 1 on a two months' leave of absence to recuperate at his northern home, he fully expected to be able to return to his old seat of Federal Judge June 1, but his malady, which developed rapidly upon his arrival here, and he grew worse until death came last night.

Since last Monday he had taken no nourishment. He told his wife his end was near and that he was fully resigned. Last Thursday noon he became unconscious.

During his illness several eminent physicians were called in, and committee of three were selected by the judge himself. They could offer no remedy.

INTERNATIONAL PAPER PLAN.

Theodore Stanton to Be Head of Publication in Paris Devoted to Politics of World.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, June 11.—Exclusive Dispatch.] Theodore Stanton, son of Elisabeth Cady Stanton, who returned from Europe on Saturday, brought with him the news that a number of prominent and influential men in Europe and this country are behind a movement to publish what will be known as an international daily newspaper. The plans have progressed so far that the movement is now in publishing the paper in Paris in January. It will deal only with international affairs and matters of world-wide importance and Mr. Stanton believes that there is a permanent field for it.

"Such a newspaper," said Mr. Stanton, in talking of the project, "to be a success, necessarily must be international, and the paper must be considered as the first thing to do in getting the Senate to defeat the Root amendment to the paper schedule; vote in the Senate tomorrow on the popular election of senators; resumption of the wool tariff debate in the House Tuesday is the week's programme of Congress.

Several conferences are planned, including a caucus of Democrats in the House. Work is to begin to complete the extension of the legislative programme and a meeting of Republican Senators Tuesday to revise the list of Senate employees.

House investigating committees will continue their work.

DATE OF ADJOURNMENT.

There is much speculation as to the probability of adjournment which Senator Root and some others predict will occur July 27, while Democratic Leader Underwood says if the extra session continues until late summer or autumn, a more comprehensive scheme of tariff revision will be referred to the House.

Early action on the reciprocity bill seems unlikely unless the Root amendment is defeated.

Mr. Underwood and other Democrats propose to refer the reciprocity bill to a committee to consider its merits, to give it a favorable action on the amendment so it will be unnecessary for the bill to be referred to the lower branch of Congress.

Committee About Done.

Word from the Senate Finance Committee that it has practically wound up its business for the extra session reached the House. Democratic Leader Underwood was convinced that the Senate committee will not pass on any of their tariff bills.

"There is a probability that we will not be able to get a reciprocity bill after we have passed the wool bill and a cotton bill," said Mr. Underwood today. "If the session continues until fall, we might as well go ahead with our tariff programme. After that, sugar and steel schedules would naturally be discussed."

UNTIL NEXT WINTER.

"But if the Senate is going to get through with reciprocity and refuse to take any action on the farmers' free trade bill, we might as well go ahead with our tariff programme. After that, sugar and steel schedules would naturally be discussed."

Traveling at a rate which is assumed by witnesses to have been over forty miles an hour, a double-header Pacific Electric train struck an automobile at the intersection of Sierra street and the car tracks, Covina, at 9:35 o'clock yesterday morning, possibly fatally injuring one of its two occupants.

Walter Gilmore of Covina was hurled bodily from the machine to the track, sustaining severe cuts and bruises, the rupture of an internal organ, a finger and a toe being broken. A mile away from the accident, it is reported to an insurance company by the company are Motor man Watterson and Conductor Brown.

Miss Amon was thrown into the air by the force of the impact of the train, but although beyond the range of a feather and a stone, was completely demolished, but the coach was otherwise undamaged. In charge of it, it is reported to an insurance

The little city of Vernon may not be able to compete with New York, Venice, Arcadia and other centers of teeming population, but if an earthquake does not swallow it up within six months or the ancient and dishonorable pig pens smother the lives out of its citizens, it will put the tobacco trust on the blink before this year comes to an end. There's nothing to it, but to let it alone.

Since the league played its first game there April 2 there have been twenty-two home runs hit over the Vernon fence and as each one represents five pounds of tobacco it can readily be seen that the tobacco trust may either have to go out of business on this coast or buy off the Pacific Coast League to have it play baseball out at Vernon Sunday morning.

The trust had itself hooked for fifteen additional pounds of the microbe killer yesterday morning when two ball players hit three home runs over the Vernon fence. The trust was having no aversion that he hit the ball out of the lot on two occasions.

This was Bunny Pierce, the Oakland catcher, and his swats were easily the best of the Sunday afternoon game, which is always the best of the two played that day. His pokes beat Vernon out of a game that the Tigers should have had for in both instances he now has a man to his credit and him and scored him. These four runs that one man practically made were too much of a handicap for the Tigers.

In addition to being a break game for long swats the morning struggle game very near being the cause of a number of ambulance calls. Four or five players went down the empire when the ball hit them in the eye. In the first inning Pfyl, the first man up, grounded out to the first baseman and in slinging his bat back when he started to run to first base landed in the Umpire's eye. He left home base had to stop the game for several minutes while he kissed his paw back into shape again. A moment later was struck down behind Hoffman. Hoffman had fumbled off a ball the same next knocking McGeevey's left arm from his body. In the second inning Catcher Pearce's left leg was badly bruised and while the third, Stinson, set a group to the head just kicked on Hettlinger's left shin and knocked the man down. A number of other minor injuries were handed the players during the day, but the two outlasted him to kiss themselves with pleasure when the thing was ended.

—GREGORY IS LUCKY.

Gregory, the new man Wolverton got from the East headed through the game but he was groggy in almost every inning and had it not been for Pearce and his raps over the fence Greg would have had an easy victory. He was confessing in the hole and only spectacular fielding at times and good support all the way, helped him out.

Brackenridge started for Vernon but after a sultry third inning he got against it in the eighth and retired in favor of Raleigh, who was more sorry than the average cool place. The fans were loudly applauding an easy victory. He was confessing in the hole and only spectacular fielding at times and good support all the way, helped him out.

Brack got through the first two innnings in fine style but Wares, the first man up in the third beat out a bunt and after a single and a double later Pearce rapped the pill over the left fence, two runs scoring. Brack then shut the Oaks out without a run and but one hit up to the eighth innning.

Wares began the eighth with a bounding infield hit and on his steal to second Sheehan threw the ball into center field and Wares ran to third base. Pearce bounded the ball to Burrell who threw to the plate. This throw drove Wares back toward third and he would have been out had not Burrell muffed the ball Sheehan threw to him. Wares scored a moment later when Pfyl beat out an infield hit.

The luck seemed Hogan so much that he removed Brackenridge and put in Raleigh to pitch and this one suggested any more runs from arriving in that inning.

In the ninth, however, he lost the game and the game was out and Hettlinger singled infield. Then Wares popped to Hettler and to the surprise of every fan and particularly Raleigh, Pearce shot the ball over the left fence for another home run, scoring Hettlinger.

Vernon started some business in the second when with two out Sheehan hit over the left fence for a home run. The ball hit the top of the fence. With two out in the third Patterson drew a pass and scored on dinky infield hits by Stinson and Hesp. Brackenridge hit to right and Carlisle's triple over third base made the score 3-2. The third run started with eighth the fourth run started with Patterson's swat to center. Stinson sacrificed a bunt which Pfyl muffed on. Oregon's third to home runs over. Patterson on third and one scored on McKune's bounces to Pfyl. Patterson beating the throw to the plate.

AWFUL PERFORMANCE.

The matinee contest was a terrific fiasco, for in the third inning the Tigers began to claw the Oak pitchers and in four innings had maced four of these. The string wound up with Wolverton, who was a catcher in his salid days. He headed the last two runs of the game and was a man who has not pitched for years.

The first victim was Christian and he lasted until the third. In that inning and Stinson doubled to left, two runs scoring.

The fourth was an explosion. McKune opened this with a tap to right field and to Stinson, who was in field stike to short. Van Hogan popped in to bat for Sheehan and popped a Texas leaguer over Christian's head. Then with the bases full and no one out, Sheehan went out on a single, single, and it was good enough to score McKune and McDonald. Carlisle hit a sacrifice fly to right that put Hogan on third and this ended Christian, who was taken out to give Kilroy a chance.

He didn't get much of a one for Kilroy hit him for a single right off the reel, scoring Hogan and Patterson followed with a double to right, scoring Stewart.

PERNOL GETS HIS.

At this point Kilroy was chased to the bench and Pernoll was led up to the slaughter. Stinson greeted him with a double to left that scored Kane and Patterson and Hesp singled in.

The fifth was a single, which almost made P. noll stayed through the fifth inning and two more runs were picked off him from a pass, a dinky Texas leaguer hit, a single. P. noll had another infield sacrifice and an out.

Wolverton began to pitch in the sixth and with two out Wares made a single to right. Stewart hit a double to left. Carlisle was walked and Kane slammed the ball to center, two runs scoring.

The seventh was the final ones, for Wolverton kept the Tigers from making any in the seventh and eighth.

The Oaks got two runs the first on Maggert's single, Kilroy's miff of a single, Cuthshaw and Carlisle's double steal by Maggert and Cuthshaw and Zacher's swat to right. Two more came in the third on Pfyl's double to center, Hoffman's tap to right and Sheehan's single to left.

The eighth was the fourth inning of the afternoon game.

PORT OF FRESNO.

Speaking of the waterways movement in this country, it must have been a surprise to many people to learn that Fresno is now a regular port of call for steamers on the San Joaquin River.

A HARD TASK.

A wonder what the platform of the next National Democratic Convention will have to say about the domination of trusts in the Taft administration? The record being made is enough to send the Democracy over the ropes.

STILL PILING UP.

The new city directory that will make its appearance some time this month will show a big increase in the population since the official census was taken last June. Los Angeles is flourishing like a green bay tree. San Francisco will soon be taking our dust.

LUCKY SAN PEDRO.

A postal savings bank has been ordered established at San Pedro; and now Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice and Long Beach are all "hot up" on account of the preference shown. They ought to have themselves annexed to Los Angeles, and then all good things would come to them.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Somebody says that Col. Roosevelt says that he will not be a candidate for the Presidency in 1912 and would regard it as a calamity if he should be mentioned in connection with the honor. Well, let it go at that for the present. We would not desire to ruffle the feelings of the cognac for anything in the world.

HALF-RATE TICKETS.

The managers of the trolley lines operating within the 5-cent fare limit have arranged to sell school children half-rate tickets from 7 in the morning until 6 in the evening, beginning with the new school year. This is a concession on the part of the corporations that will be appreciated by the parents. The difference amounts to quite a number of dollars in the course of a year.

WE SOON SHALL KNOW.

The work of pumping the water out of the cofferdam that surrounds the sunken Main in Havana Harbor is going on rapidly, and we soon shall know whether the explosion that sent the battleship to the bottom came from outside or inside. And what good will the information do? The war is over, Cuba is free from the domination of Spain, and even the Spanish people are glad that the war happened, even if their national pride was humbled.

STRAW VOTE FIEND.

Just as we were preparing for vacation joys and a contemplation of duty conscientiously done during the year, a Nebraska newspaper has taken a straw vote on the Presidency. The figures show that Roosevelt is in the lead among the Republicans, while Bryan has the pole among the Democrats. But the straw vote was conducted by an insurant newspaper, and that makes all the difference in the world. And straw votes are not convincing enough to do away with national conventions and elections.

MERELY A PROFESSOR.

In Los Angeles Friday a thirteen-year-old boy was arrested on charge of being a "bandit" and he pleaded guilty. Many of the world's noisiest people are only professors to badness or greatness. It is not in the least necessary to profess what we are, and the bluff of a loud assumption hardly carries beyond the range of our own voices when we pretend to be something that we are not. The small boy will not be photographed in the newspapers and heralded in dime novels as a bad man of the West. He will only be spanked by the Juvenile Court and sent to bed without supper. Life refuses even to discredit us when we try to bolster ourselves in a false position.

AN HEIR PRESUMPTIVE.

Press dispatches say that an heir of the Goetz millions was born on Friday. The world seems never to arrive at a recognition of the fact that in America a man is born heir to little except a fighting chance. A man is born with the right to life if he can survive its conditions. The chance to qualify is the universal heirship and beside it none other has worth. The heir to a throne is not always kingly, and one who inherits millions may be lacking both in a sense of possession and the power to conserve. The reality of wealth lies in its realization, and this is a quality, having little to do with quantity. Therefore the presumptive heir of the Goetz millions must qualify on the one hand by which men attempt to keep the accounts of life straight.

TOO MANY LAWS.

"Ignorance of the law is no excuse"—even justifiable ignorance. But what are the lawyers in the State of Washington to do? How are they to advise their clients? How are they to counsel each other? The Legislature of the State adjourned without making provision for the printing of the session's laws before August or September next—and yet thirty-nine of the bills passed carried emergency clauses and took effect at once.

An ancient tyrant caused his edicts to be written and nailed to the top of high posts, where people could not read them. Then he confiscated their property and cut off their heads for violation of the law. What will be done in Washington with lawbreakers who are similarly situated?

JUDGE DENSMORE'S DECISION.

Judge Densmore, in his decision that the hotel and restaurant clause in the woman's eight-hour law is unconstitutional, while disclaiming any intent to criticize the motives of the members of the Legislature who enacted the law, yet says, very significantly: "If the effect of such a law is to handicap toiling womanhood in her struggle for existence, and to reserve from her encroachments certain avocations for the exclusive benefit of man, then such a law is damnable and no censure is too severe."

The suspicion of the Judge that the law was designed by the labor-union leaders who secured its passage to push out of their jobs women who do not contribute to the greed and submit to the graft of working delegates, and to supply their places with soft-handed members of the labor union, was well founded. The proposed beneficiaries of the eight-hour law are saying: "Move along, girls. Leave your telephone and telegraph tables and give us your places. Depart from the hotels and restaurants, we require better food and plenty of tips. Out you go from the stores. We prefer to smirk behind counters rather than glaze windows or daub houses. We need soft jobs and the union-labor leaders need a percentage of our wages. Go to the cook stove and the wash tub, girls. Go scrub the floors and split the kindling wood."

The reason for any law to regulate the employment of women is given by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Mullen vs. the State of Oregon. The court says: "By abundant testimony of the medical fraternity, continuance for a long time on her feet at work, repeating this from day to day, tends to injurious effects upon the body, and as healthy mothers are essential to vigorous offspring, the physical well-being of women becomes an object of public interest and care in order to preserve the strength and vigor of the race."

A waitress at a hotel or restaurant is "for a long time on her feet at work." It cannot be denied that the hotel and restaurant service is harder and more exhausting for a woman than any of the other employments named in the woman's eight-hour law except possibly the laundry service. The hotel and restaurant service prohibition is the only one which Judge Densmore passed upon in his lengthy and able opinion.

But Judge Densmore could not have decided other than he did without flying in the face of the Supreme Court of California, which in ex parte Kuhack, 85 Cal. 274, decided:

"The right of every person to pursue any lawful calling without let or hindrance cannot be secured without permitting every person who wishes employment to seek it, and to leave all persons free to accept the services of others on such terms as may be agreed upon between them."

Great stress is laid by the union-labor organs upon the paragraph at the conclusion of the decision in which Judge Densmore says: "I am further of opinion that in all other respects 'here considered' the eight-hour law is a valid and constitutional enactment and does not fall by reason of the unconstitutionality of the void provision respecting hotels."

The only respects in which the law was 'considered' by the Judge was in its applicability to hotels, restaurants, lodging-houses and boarding-houses. Its constitutionality as applied to laundries, department stores, dressmaking establishments, etc., with not "considered," and the glaring headlines of a portion of the Los Angeles press declaring that the court decided that the "eight-hour law is valid" were born either of inability to comprehend the decision or to honestly state its true purport and effect.

None of the prohibited employments are as severe, as exhausting or as detrimental to health as that of being the wife of a man whose earnings will not justify the hiring of a servant. Such a woman rises before the sun. She prepares and serves two or three meals a day for her husband and children. She sweeps and cleans her house. She acts as laundress for the family. She labors from twelve to fourteen hours each day, Sundays included. She is on her feet a good portion of the time. She "works hard all her life for her board and clothes." The wages that the same woman would receive for nine hours of light labor during six days of the week in any of the prohibited employments would, in she were single, pay for her board and clothing and afford her a surplus. Or if she were married it would enable her to pay the wages of a servant, furnish herself with a good wardrobe and supply her husband with beer and tobacco money.

The Times opposed the passage of the woman's eight-hour law when it was before the Legislature last winter. It made such opposition in the interest of the working women whose opportunity to earn a living were menaced by it. The Times pointed out the inconsistencies and unconstitutionality of the law at the time, and it predicted that the courts would deal with it as Judge Densmore has done.

THE "COLOSSUS."

"Canada," says the Victoria (B. C.) Times, "is rightly denominated the Colossus of the North. Her potential greatness can be made to make the greatness of America look pygmy when compared. Some day this Colossus, sleeping as yet, will throw a shadow over the North American continent under which the other part of the continent may be glad to seek shelter."

"Modesty," says the proverb, "is a quality which highly adorns a woman but is utterly ruinous to a man." It is obvious that ruin will never be precipitated upon "Our Lady of the Snows" in consequence of the shrinking diffidence of her newspaper press. The Times has hitherto been of the opinion that there were newspapers in Southern California capable of expressing high appreciation of our climate, our resources and our growth. But we must all take off our hats to the British Columbia booster. He is the limit. He is it.

With it—unfeigned sorrow the inevitable hour when the American eagle will "seek shelter" under the wings of the Canadian bantam; when the lion of the South shall silence his roar and listen respectfully to the chipper of the northern chipmunk; when Kentucky horses shall be distanced on the race track of nations by Canadian Shetland ponies. If our inevitable fate is to be annexed to the Colossus of the North let us delay the calamity as long as possible and not hasten it by reciprocity.

Exactly what the government will gain if it should obtain a decision of the courts that its patent on the land carried the surface of the land only is not obvious. The oil under the land will have to remain there until wells shall be sunk to it. Neither the government of the United States nor any of its licensees, lessees, or grantees has any right to intrude upon the lands of a private citizen and put up derricks and pumping machinery there. The government might sink a shaft 1000 feet on adjacent land and

THE DIVINE RIGHT?

BY CAPT. LESLIE T. PEACOCKE.

Now that the coronation of George V of England is so largely claiming attention a brief bark back to the historical events which have ultimately brought him to the throne may prove of interest to those who have hitherto evinced little interest in the subject. To those who have it is, of course, well known that the reigning house of England holds really little or no claim to rule over the British empire by the so-called "Divine Right of Kings," but by the fortuitous right of conquest and the good will of a complacent people who, heartily tired of the Stuart dynasty and never-ending internal troubles, acclaimed with joy a foreign Prince who was accredited with having divine commandments. At that time the "Divine Right" rule passed from England and became invested in the good will of the people who demonstrated their little belief in any such right and drastically warned the future heads of their nation that on their own behaviour the monarchical form of government must depend.

When the miserable James II made his sneaking get-away through his Rochester garden down to the Medway and to France, where he died, unregretted, dynastic troubles in England came finally to an end and the last of the direct line of the Stuarts was James II. The Duke of York assumed the ancient theory from England that their sovereign must rule by the so-called "Divine Right of Kings."

The Legitimist claim, which cites Princess Mary of Bavaria as the true heir to the throne, is merely a matter of interesting antiquarian research, and were she to attempt to push her claims she would receive but scant sympathy from even the most ancient noble houses or the foremost champions of the Divine Right of Kings.

For good or ill the crown made, and on the Divine Right when the cowardly James II fled the country and, by doing so, utterly disgusted the adherents of the house of Stuart, and William of Holland was gladly accepted in his place.

Before this was accomplished, however, an Act of Settlement had to be passed in the House of Commons, and that did pass by the veriest fluke. The act was passed by a majority of one—and that one a drunken Welsh member who voted in the wrong lobby by mistake—so one can easily realize by what a queer freak of circumstances a man who was not even present, King George V, is indebted for the exalted position in which he stands today.

On the death of Queen Victoria the dynasty of Guelph came to an end, and with Edward VII began the dynasty of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, through which George V traces his real male pedigree and lays claim to the so-called Divine Right to rule as a King. Saxony is not England, however, and the King of Saxony is the rightful reigning head of his house, so that King George's claims in that direction are open to question.

As a male descendant he shares in common with the Kings of Saxony, Belgium and Portugal, all of whom are closely related to him, and their pedigree from this source running back to the remotest historical antiquity is probably the finest and most authentic continuous male descent of which record has been kept.

The pedigrees of the Emperor of Japan and the Negus of Abyssinia are asserted to be of far greater length, but it is doubtful how far Oriental authentication can be relied upon. These rulers can show as clean and unbroken a record as can these descendants of Wittekind the Great, the first Duke of Saxony, who died in 807 and who fought so strenuously against the redoubtable Charlemagne.

A descendant of this line, it will be remembered, married the late Queen Victoria; her consort, Albert, being the second son of Ernest Frederick, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld and Gotha.

The descendants of the Prince Consort have been longer than the Kings of Great Britain and Ireland an inescutcheon of arms of Saxony—the crown of rue in bend vert upon the barbed field of gold and black—but Kings Edward and George both, on succeeding to the crown, dropped it.

All the other members of the royal family who are descendants of Queen Victoria continue its use and are Dukes and Duchesses of Saxony and Princes and Princesses of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha.

The descendants of the Prince Consort have been longer than the Kings of Great Britain and Ireland an inescutcheon of arms of Saxony—the crown of rue in bend vert upon the barbed field of gold and black—but Kings Edward and George both, on succeeding to the crown, dropped it.

Thus it will be seen that George V has the blood of the Divine Right in his veins, but whether it is by Divine Right that he finds himself ruling over the English peoples is another question. However, if his health holds out and can bear the pleasant strain there is no doubt but he will do his best.

SANTA MONICA AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

Wilkes Makes a Century By Terrific Hitting.

Tomkins Carrics Off the Cricket Honors.

Rowland Makes Top Score Carries Out Bat.

The cricket match between Los Angeles and Santa Monica, played at Vineyard yesterday, resulted in an easy win for the beach eleven by five wickets and 104 runs. The scores were 73 and 177 for five wickets.

The feature of the play was the magnificent innings of Wilkes, who scored 103, not out. He was ably backed up by Jamieson, who also carried out his bat for thirty-three runs. With only thirty-five runs up and half the side out, Wilkes and Jamieson raised the total to 177 before the umptioneer called the game off on account of time.

This partnership had produced no fewer than 142 runs, a record this year for the sixth wicket. Included in Wilkes' total were two 6's and eleven 4's. Only one chance did this star cricketer give, viz. a hard catch in the deep off the bowler.

The fielding of Mitchell was superb and equalled only by that of Hunt at mid off. Hutchison, for the locals, made the finest catch of the day when he snared back a ball from the low down with one hand, in which act he sprawled his length on the turf, he held it amidst enthusiastic cheers.

As expected, Tomkins proved his skill with the bat by dismissing no less than five batsmen for a paltry twenty-two runs. The bowling field and fielding of the Santa Monica eleven were also impressive.

They were as smart as a regiment of dragoons, as quick as cats and played to win.

On the other "ducks" were made by the local eleven, although the majority of the team did not shape up very well before the deadly deliveries of the Santa Monica bowlers. Only three batsmen played with any confidence for Los Angeles. These were Packman, Watson and Rowland. The former is always a steady batter and a consistent fielder, and his solid effort reached double figures. Watson and Rowland played sterling cricket. The latter made tape score for his side and executed some really fine strokes.

Watson, who is an ex-member of the Wanderers Cricket Club of Chicago, is still a man and has cut out a particularly pleasing late cut, which notched him several runs yesterday.

MANY ERRORS MADE.

There were a number of easy catches muffed which ought to have been held. Hutchison should have been taken behind the wicket in the opening ball of the match, but skated Jamison to extra cover point, but Allan failed to hold the ball. Allan, however, made up for this error by a brilliant catch of a ball from the deep field which sent back Watson. Higgins opened by lifting the ex-captain of Los Angeles to deep square leg. It was a difficult catch but Mitchell did a good job.

The latter, by the way, brought off a good catch in the deep field which dismissed Fletcher the Oxford blue.

Watson made the winning hit by putting Watson to the boundary for a four. Not content with this, he deliberately hit Watson three times in succession to the boundary, which to say the least was rather an expensive over.

Almost every bowler on the local eleven was tried in a vain effort to dislodge Wilkes and his partner. The former sent the centurion up with a terrific drive, followed by two six hits clean out of the ground off Hutchinson. Meggett was the only other player to make a six hit for which he was roundly applauded.

G. H. Griffith, late of Dulwich College, England, and Beckenham, has signified his intention of playing for Santa Monica this season. Griffith has also played for Ramsgate, Bury St. Edmunds, and Beckenham, for Beckenham he scored 150 runs.

The match between Santa Monica and San Diego has been arranged for July 15, on the old polo grounds. Following is the full score and bowling analysis:

DARING FLIGHTS BY BIRD MEN.

VINE EXHIBITION OF FLYING SEEN AT DOMINGUEZ.

Gage Proves to Be the Star With a Biplane of His Own Design in Which He Carried Passengers All Afternoon—Frank Sities Thrills the Spectators By Quick Descent.

More than a thousand spectators witnessed the flying yesterday by the local bird-men at the aviation field near Dominguez. A continuous series of flights took place from 10 o'clock in the morning until nearly 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Frank Sities in his headless Curtiss type biplane gave the crowd a thrill when his machine became unmanageable at a height of about forty feet, and spiraled to the left landing and crushing the planes on that side.

Sites was uninjured and kept his seat until after the smash-up. The rotary motor used continued running, but was soon stopped by the daring pilot. Before the accident he succeeded in making a flight of more than a mile and a half, which ought to have been held.

Rebels Get Busy.

AUTO DRIVERS ARE HELD UP BY FIERY INSURGENTS IN OLD MEXICO.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Insurgents today hauled down from the E.M.F. Pathfinder for the Los Angeles-Phoenix Automobile Road Race. While the machine was across the Mexican line today, the rebels, who had been through Yuma, the Mexican soldiers objected to the flag on the second car and at first ordered the car to raise the Mexican flag above the Stars and Stripes. This order was rescinded and the American flags were taken down. The cap of a dead insurgent is being carried home as a memento of the day.

While the country beyond the border is in a state of turmoil the E.M.F. cavalcade crossed the line a second time today and the exciting incident did not cause the route to be changed. It is necessary to cross the border several times and to follow the Mexican boundary for 100 miles if the cars are sent back through Yuma.

Though the Mexican flag was not raised above the American, the tricolor was given place on the side of the Stars and Stripes who appeared to be anxious to avoid all complications with the United States.

Riders, who are close to the line, however, were more than pleased to hear that the Stars and Stripes were carried through Mexican territory and those who are living in fear of deportation and for internment and the E.M.F. and its nerve crew were objects of intense curiosity. While the line is being patrolled by the insurgents the United States soldiers look best to the men whose property borders the Mexican boundary.

AUTO DRIVERS ARE HELD UP. As the E.M.F. machines shot over into the United States a short distance beyond the Bowker ranch several of the insurgents in California had been in the car and had welcomed them as route blazers for a race which they hope will be held along the international line.

Early this morning the E.M.F. with Bill Lacleas at the wheel left El Centro for the run to San Diego. This proved exciting and dangerous as the run of the race had been when the insurgents broadened their rifles in front of the radiators of the cars. After leaving the center of Imperial Wells the two autos, the second of which was the E.M.F., were held up by Harvey Herrick, owner of Coyote Wells.

Here an incident caused a parley. A calf with a frayed rope dragging from its neck was almost snared by the first machine. The animal was driven toward the Wells and the man who owns the place was asked to take care of the stray. He refused and gave a good reason for his refusal.

"These insurrectos ston't care if I don't dare to let it up. It belongs to some of the big ranches but I don't want to get into trouble. I'll feel it tonight when nobody is looking at me then I'll let it go." Coyotes may not but I guess the insurrectos will.

BAD ROADS FOUND.

After leaving Coyote Wells the cars were driven through Devil's Canyon.

This is one of the fiercest routes ever chosen for an auto race, and the mountain passes was severe indeed. After passing through the Devil's Garden, the Gods of the M. F. were driven into the National Forest which skirts the border and a fast run was then made for the country just below San Diego. Here again the rebels, who had been through Yuma, the Mexican soldiers objected to the flag on the second car and at first ordered the car to raise the Mexican flag above the Stars and Stripes. This order was rescinded and the American flags were taken down.
